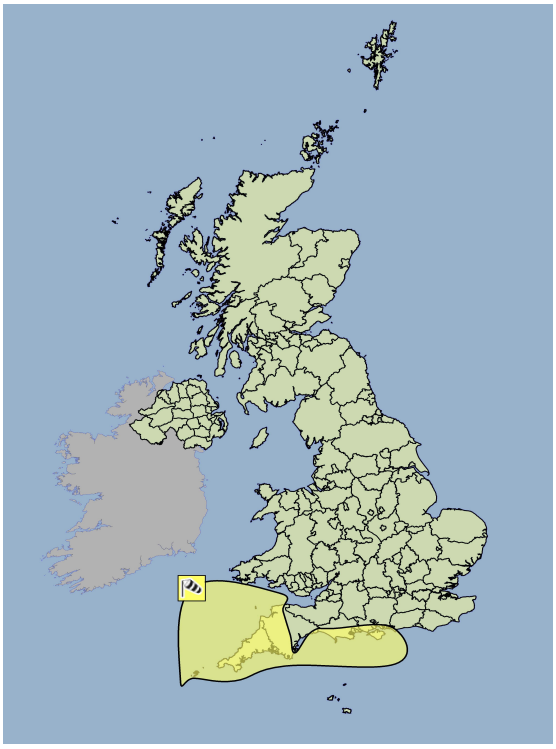
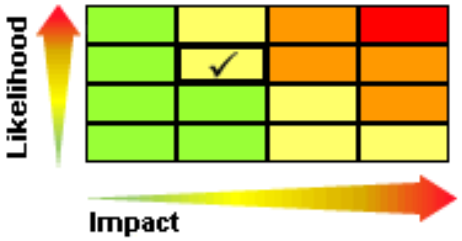
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An area of low pressure is expected to be over the UK on Monday with some very strong winds around its southern flank, these lying across parts of southwest and south England. The winds are likely to be very gusty at times, particularly around showers running into these areas.

There is some uncertainty in the track of the strongest winds and so this alert is likely to be updated in the coming days.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Wind

Valid from 06:00 on Mon, 08th Feb 2016 until 15:00 on Mon, 08th Feb 2016

An area of very strong winds is likely across parts of southwest and south England, in particular the coasts of Cornwall, on Monday morning before winds gradually ease during the afternoon.

Gusts of 60-70 mph are possible in exposed coastal districts. Please be aware of the potential for disruption to travel.
